A CELEBRATION OF COMMUNITY

LOGO WINNER: Winner of the 2010 Suwannee Day logo design competition is Aaleigh James of Lawrenceville, who was the 2008 winner as well. James, a graphic designer with Accent South Media, was selected from among 78 entries to represent this year's festival. The 2010 design features a building-scape of Town Center with iconic festival images – representing music, art, food, and shopping – subtly woven in. As the Suwannee Day design competition winner, James won $500, and her design will be used on festival t-shirts and promotional materials.

TODAY'S FOCUS

Gwinnett Place is central business district for county

By MARK WILLIAMS
Chairman
Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District

DULUTH, Ga., July 2, 2010 – Gwinnett Place is truly the central business district of this county, and our area is a top draw year round. Gwinnett Place collectively offers a wide variety of dining, entertainment and shopping attractions that can only be found in our portion of Gwinnett County.

We have some of the newest hotel accommodations, including a new Holiday Inn and other locations that have recently completed multi-million dollar renovations. Gwinnett Place is

TODAY'S QUOTE

What terrifies him is what the people want

"Television is the first truly democratic culture -- the first culture available to everybody and entirely governed by the people want. The most terrifying thing is what people do want."

— the late New York Times Theatre Critic Clive Barnes (1927-2008).
