This week, the Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District (CID) welcomed Shorter University, which opened a new adult and professional services campus at 3805 Crestwood Parkway.

The number of higher and continuing education alternatives continues to grow in the county's central business district, adding to greater Gwinnett Place's uniqueness within Gwinnett County.

CID Chairman Mark Williams said Shorter University is the fourth such program to locate in the area, making greater Gwinnett Place one of the most highly concentrated education spots in the county.
