Duluth, May 6, 2014 — As the first eight-lane Diverging Diamond Interchange (DDI) operational in the U.S. and the first DDI constructed in Gwinnett County, Gwinnett officials officially celebrate the success of the new DDI at Pleasant Hill over I-85 with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

"This has been a wild success for taxpayers," said Congressman Rob Woodall at the ribbon cutting ceremony.

"Count me among the citizenry whose life is better because people dared to dream," adds the Congressman.

"This is truly an exemplary private-public partnership. This innovative project is made possible by the SPLOST sales tax program, a grant from State Road and Tollway Authority, and Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District," said Charlotte Nash, Chair of Gwinnett County Board of
