

At Gwinnett County Parks, campers have a blast in our top-notch facilities, while they explore the outdoors on the wooded trails, playgrounds, and picnic areas encouraging them to embrace environmental responsibility. Summer camps began June 6 and continue through July 29.

- For more information or to register, call 770-822-8840 or visit www.gwinnettparks.com.

New London Theatre presenting To Kill a Mockingbird starting June 10

An American classic, To Kill a Mockingbird, is to be presented by the New London Theatre opening June 10 and continuing through June 26. Show times are Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. , and Sunday afternoons at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $12 in advance or $15 on the day of the show. Children/students (3-19) and seniors (55+) are always $10. Tickets can be purchased either online through our website or at the theatre box office.

Shows are performed at New London Theatre: 2338 Henry Clower Boulevard in Snellville in New London Plaza inside Hello Again Variety Mall. For additional information about this and future performances, auditions, ticket purchases, volunteering, or donations, visit www.newlondontheatre.org.

NOTABLE

Gwinnett Place CID expands for 4th time, adding new properties

Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District is expanding, with six land parcels with a total fair market value of $27 million. This will bring the district membership to 245 commercial properties.

In a recent vote, the Gwinnett County Board of Commissioners approved expansion of the Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District's (GPCID) boundaries. The commercial property owners joining GPCID in the 2016 expansion are all located in unincorporated Duluth at the following addresses: 1600 Executive Drive, 1705 Executive Drive, 3805 Crestwood Parkway, 3885 Crestwood Parkway, 3801 Breckinridge Boulevard and 1760 Pineland Road.

Joe Allen, executive director of Gwinnett Place CID, says: "The investment and involvement of commercial property owners is the lifeblood of GPCID, and we are pleased to welcome our newest members who are contributing to our ongoing effort to expedite mobility, quality of life and economic improvement strategies for the benefit of businesses, employees and visitors to Gwinnett's central business district."

The expansion brings the total value of the GPCID to an estimated $617,211,400, and is the CID's fourth geographical expansion since it was founded in 2005. Steve Berman, founder of OA Development and chairman of the CID, says: "We have witnessed the mobility improvements, transportation projects and security enhancements GPCID has brought about in the area and decided to have the Crestwood Pointe I and II properties be a part of the District's continued growth by joining the organization. We look forward to further promoting the area and bringing about even more positive change."

Suwanee seeks to know what residents think about a new park

The City of Suwanee is in the early planning stages of a new park, and wants to know what citizens would like to see in the new communal space.

The approximate 20-acre site (locally known as the DeLay Property) located behind the Suwanee library and PlayTown Suwanee on Lawrenceville-Suwanee Road, is set to be the City of Suwanee's next great park. Purchased in 2002 as a future park site, the property was an early acquisition in the Open Space Initiative.

Suwanee City Manager Marty Allen says: "At this time, the park is only in the preliminary planning stages. We are not sure if we're planning for the immediate future or the midterm."