Exclusive: Verizon Telematics Cuts Potential Cord To Midtown

March 18, 2016

ATLANTA

Can you hear me now? For Verizon Telematics, not in Midtown.

The telecom giant's connected automobile software division has scuttled plans to move to Midtown, specifically at Carter's 715 Peachtree St (here) redo, numerous sources tell us. The decision comes weeks after reports indicated Verizon Telematics—which is the result of Verizon's...

Celebrating A Decade Of Change For Gwinnett's Central Business District

The Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District (GPCID) is celebrating its 10-year anniversary. Over the last decade, the GPCID has witnessed tremendous success. Its board has provided leadership and vision to drive transitional change to the area. Through public/private partnerships, GPCID has played a role in creating a Tax Allocation District and the Gwinnett Place Opportunity Zone to draw future investment and more jobs into the area. In partnership with Gwinnett County and the State of Georgia, GPCID has led innovative infrastructure investments such as Gwinnett's first Diverging Diamond Interchange—which has resulted in a 43% decrease in traffic delay. In order to make the area more green and walkable, GPCID has partnered to construct miles of new sidewalks and invested millions in the installation of plants and trees. Its efforts have removed 165 tons of trash from its roadways.
