

Adams, Coffey Re-Elected to Gwinnett Place CID Board

Submitted by Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District

Local business leaders Marcy Adams and Casey Coffey have been re-elected to serve as members of the Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District (CID) board of directors. Property owners representing greater Gwinnett Place voted during the CID's regularly scheduled board meeting on Tuesday to keep Adams and Coffey on the board.

Adams serves as manager of the Atlanta Marriott Gwinnett Place, and she has been with that location since 1999. Coffey is a partner with Gwinnett Place Ford Lincoln Mercury and Gwinnett Place Nissan, and he has worked in the automotive industry for more than 20 years.

CID Chairman Mark Williams said the elections affirm the CID's leadership in enhancement efforts aimed at improving Gwinnett Place's economic viability.

"We have a strong team working hard to serve the interests of our property owners and help their businesses grow," Williams said. "Everything we do is geared to making this a better business environment for greater Gwinnett Place. I am confident that we have a dedicated board sharing a commitment and shared purpose."

Also during the same meeting, board members elected to retain the existing arrangement of officers. Adams will continue to serve as vice chair with Williams as chairman and Glenn Wisdom as Secretary-Treasurer.

Unless otherwise posted, the board of directors meets at 9 a.m. on the second Wednesday of each month. Meetings are typically conducted at the Atlanta Marriott Gwinnett Place - 1775 Pleasant Hill Road.
