The Gwinnett Place Community Improvement District \(CID\) is conducting an online transportation mobility survey.

The CID is asking everyone to share their opinions on existing travel conditions in order to improve planning for future improvements. The survey will help the CID understand the impact of transportation options on the quality of life within the Gwinnett Livable Centers Initiative (LCI) study area. The LCI is currently undergoing a 10-year update.

"We are learning about how people travel throughout Gwinnett Place and finding out which options and improvements would make our area more accessible. The opinions that we receive will play an important role as we complete the transportation and mobility portions of the 10-year Livable Centers Initiative plan, which is the blueprint for how future growth and economic development could occur here for many years to come," said Joe Allen, executive director of the Gwinnett Place CID.

To take the survey, visit http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/Gwinnett\_LCI\_Mobility\_Survey.

The survey will close on Nov. 7.
