

Follow us on

Listen live to Atlanta's breaking news, severe weather, & traffic online

Sign In | Register

Posted: 5:26 a.m. Friday, June 7, 2013

Gwinnett's diverging diamond to be ready Monday

Sandra Parrish

Duluth, GA — The next phase of metro Atlanta's second diverging diamond interchange begins Monday morning and crews will be working all weekend to make sure it happens.

Traffic will "crossover" to the opposite side of the bridge at Pleasant Hill Road at I-85 for motorists either turning left onto the interstate or going straight on the roadway.

"Before motorists get to the bridge they'll be diverted into the left-hand lane so that when they approach that left turn... they're already in that lane and just make a free-flow movement," says Kim Conroy, director of the Gwinnett Transportation Department.

